1-BILET

1. Complete the sentence with the correct form of the verb.

We have had our house painted this year.

2. Read the paragraph and answer the questions. Millions of people all over the world speak English as a foreign or second language. We wonder whether English will still be the international language in the next century. Many people think that English will continue to be the international language. It is the language of many countries – the USA, Canada, Australia, the UK, New Zealand, and an official language of many others such as South Africa. Others think it depends on people. There are more than one billion people in China, so the language that is spoken by the most people will be the international language. How do you think? Can English still be the international language in the next century?

In my opinion, English can still be the international language in the next century. Because millions of people all over the world speak English as a foreign or second language. And it is the first and second language in most countries.

3. Speak on the theme “My learning strategies”. What do you do to learn effectively?

I think without learning strategies, it's rather difficult to learn something. I have my own strategy to learn languages. Firstly, I create atmosphere for myself. If I learn English, I listen to English music, I read English newspapers and magazines and even I watch English movies and soap operas instead of Uzbek. Besides that, I find a pen pal from abroad and write him/her messages. I introduce our country to my friend. And I receive back a lot of useful information about his/her country. I think most efficient way of learning language is to learn it with group. I enroll to speaking clubs, I find a speaking partner and practice together with him/her. That's my strategy to learn English. In my opinion it's the best way for me.

2-BILET

1. Complete the sentence.

If it is a holiday, pupils don't go to school.

2. Read the paragraph and answer the questions. Being a schoolteacher is very demanding. School teachers teach five-six classes a day with thirty-five kids to a class. They spend their evenings preparing lessons and correcting papers. At the end of the day, they can be very tired but most teachers like their jobs. They are pleased by young minds. Their job is really hard. They should be paid more. How do you think? Should schoolteachers be paid more or are they being paid enough?

I think teachers should be paid more. They work really hard, they teach five-six classes a day but they are not paid enough.

3. How did the Internet change our life?

Just a century ago we didn't even know about computers and the Internet. But today we take them for granted and can't imagine our life without these inventions. I think that the Internet (or WorldWideWeb) is the greatest invention ever and it has made a significant impact on our lives.

Nowadays the Internet is affordable almost for anyone and it connects people all around the world. You can stay in touch with your friends, relatives and colleagues. Our modern life will stop without the net because it helps to make on-line business transactions, manage our bank accounts, payour gas or electricity bills and send important e-mails, for example.

The Internet is the largest source of information. There are millions of Internet sites storing plenty of useful data about everything: science, history, psychology, sports, fashion, music, cooking and many other subjects. We can also download our favourite movies or songs, listen to radio channels or play games. Learning or practicing foreign languages is possible with the Internet too.

The Internet saves our time and money. We can do on-line shopping choosing the desirable thing at the best price. And then we just click "Order the delivery". By the way, we can also sell various things in the net. We often don't need to go to the library: surfing the net can easily help us to find and open the book we need. Buying stamps and envelopes isn't required if you're going to send an e-mail. It takes just a few seconds to send an instant message by e-mail.

The Internet helps shy people or those with low esteem to find each other on dating sites. On-line chatting through social networking websites is more comfortable for Internet users with the lack of social skills.

3-BILET

1. Complete the sentence with the correct relative pronoun.

The man who is speaking to our teacher is my uncle.

2. Read the paragraph and tell your opinion. It's not difficult to see that having certain abilities means that you can do certain jobs much better. If you have an ability to make friends quickly and get on with other people, it would be easier for you to work in a shop. If you are good at technical machinery and interested in operational problems, you should be an engineer. We should think about our personal strengths and weaknesses so that we can choose something more in line with our natural abilities.

In my opinion everybody should choose their profession according to their abilities. If they have a good ability for some type of work, it's easy for them to succeed in that field. If they don't have ability, and interest to their work, they hardly manage to be successful. For example, I think I have ability working with small children. I guess teaching is my profession.

3. Speak on the theme "My future profession".

There are a lot of interesting and useful professions. I am going to become a teacher. I suppose my future profession to be one of the most important nowadays.

My future specialty is English (Literature, Russian, History, Geography). I love children very much and to become a teacher has been my dream since my early childhood.

To teach and to bring up children is the most important and noble thing, to my mind. I am eager to get the proper education to be able to do my best to teach my future pupils my favourite subject. I'll try not only to help them to master it. I'll try to help them to become good and clever people, to be honest, kind and noble.

Children are our future and I want them to be really good and educated people. Of course, the profession of a teacher is not an easy one. It demands a lot of knowledge, a lot of tenderness of feeling and sometimes a lot of patience. But I hope, that I'll be a good teacher and that my pupils will like me and my subject.

4-BILET

1. Complete the sentence.

This book is very interesting. It is worth reading.

Bellashuv.uz

2. Read the paragraph and answer the questions. About 90 percent of all children in most countries attend public school, which is free. The other 10 percent go to private schools, which often include additional special education. Public schools usually provide general secondary education. Private schools usually include vocational subjects like business or auto mechanics too and provide elective courses. Public schools have a lot of pupils in a classroom. But private schools have fewer students. How do you think? Which is better – private or public school and why?

In my opinion private schools have quality education. They focus on main subjects rather than teach too many unnecessary subjects which most pupils are not interested. And if the number of pupils in a classroom isn't that much, teachers can control pupils' study individually.

3. Speak on the theme "My school". Why do you like your school?

I want to tell you about my school. I am a pupil of the ninth form. My school is quite big: it has three floors. On the ground floor there is a gym, a canteen, a medical room, a school museum and a library.

We usually have breakfast and lunch in the canteen. They are always very tasty and nice. Our gym is very up-to-date. School sports competitions take place there. The school library is not big. But it has a lot of books.

Pupils get textbooks for free in the library. The first floor is for primary school pupils. There are several big classrooms and one with games and toys. After school pupils can stay at school, play games and do their homework there until their parents come to take them home.

On the second floor of my school you can find the classrooms of, Literature, Biology and English. There are three classrooms of English. They are decorated with pictures and maps. On the third floor there are the classrooms of Chemistry, Biology, Maths and others. We have a big computer lab there, too. Our chemistry lab is very big. During Chemistry lessons we make experiments with teacher's help. I am not good at Chemistry, but I like working in our lab a lot.

All classrooms are nice and very cozy. There is a small assembly hall on the first floor. School meetings and concerts take place there. There is a small stage and modern equipment necessary for school plays and concerts. I really like my school and I am happy to study in it.

5-BILET

1. Complete the dialogue.
– How long does it take you to finish this task?
– It takes 20 minutes to finish this task.

2. Read the paragraph and answer the question. Pupils are expected a high standard of behaviour at all times at schools. Parents also should support teachers in developing the good behaviour of their children. It is important that pupils behave well in class. Bad behaviour affects the learning of other pupils and is unacceptable. Bullying is not tolerated at schools. Truancy is also a serious matter. Repeated truancy may result in exclusion from the school.

Teachers may punish pupils if they break the rules. How do you think? Why do schools need this kind of rules?

I think these kinds of rules are applied to keep discipline at schools. If there are no rules, everybody does what they want. Some higher-grade pupils may offend lower grade pupils. Pupils don't come to school. They don't respect their teachers. And all these may lead to decrease quality of education in that school.

3. What kind of skills do you need for your future job?

I want to be a teacher. For teaching I firstly need communication. I will have to work with a lot of children or students. Without good communication skills I hardly manage to do my job. Then I need creativity. I will make lesson plans, I teach themes with different methods, I assess pupils, I separate them in pairs and groups. So, creativity is also essential. Patience also the most needed skill. Because pupils learn at all different rates. I need to be patient and keep working hard. The results will come itself.

6-BILET

1. Complete the sentence with the correct form of the verb.

She got her hair coloured last week.

2. Read the paragraph and prepare your own speech. What will you do if you are selected as a representative of School Council?

Hello. My name is and I hope you will vote for me to represent you on the School Council. If you vote for me, we will:

- organize different circles from different subjects
- invite elderly people to the school once a week and put on a show for them;
- use our voluntary hours with lower grade pupils to share our knowledge
- make our school into a model school;
- provide extra help for teachers organizing their next lessons

Do better at school! Look after our people! Vote for me as your representative and we'll all have a bright future.

1 Tom must have taken the book. I saw him reading it.

2. The functions of Deputies at the first level before the population are as follows:

- to carry out activities on the creativity of the law with the use of the right of "legislative initiative";
- effective control over the activities of the executive power without deviating from the requirements of parliamentary control;
- work systematically with their constituents, find solutions to their problems in their daily lives, report before them;
- to encourage participation in the discussion of issues relating to the domestic and foreign policy of the country as members of the faction and the committee.

3. Leadership is a set of qualities and skills necessary to bring the team to the desired address. The impact created depends on the size of the combined group and the value created for the entire society in which the leader is responsible. Good leaders ensure that they do not damage parts or the whole team, other teams, as well as future generations.

There is always a need for a leader if a coordinated collaborative effort is required. The need for someone to initiate, at least facilitate-lead the torch to show the way. Otherwise, people can live, work and enjoy life well without a leader.

Here are the most important leadership qualities and skills for the great leader: Effective communication, integrity, accountability, sympathy, humble, endurance, view, effects, positivity, trust, open-minded.

8-BILET

1. If I had money, I would give you.
2. Furthermore, we can start by planting more trees to make up for the deforestation that is happening these days at a rapid rate. When we plant more trees, ecological balance can be restored and we can improve the quality of life. Similarly, we must stop wasting water. When done on individual levels, this will create a huge impact on conserving water. We must not pollute our water bodies by dumping waste in it. It is essential to save water most importantly as it is running out rapidly.
3. A private school is autonomous and generates its own funding through various sources like student tuition, private grants, and endowments. A public school is government funded and all students attend free of cost.

Because of funding from several sources, private schools may teach above and beyond the standard curriculum, may cater to a specific kind of students (gifted, special needs, specific religion/language) or have an alternative curriculum like art, drama, technology etc. Public schools must adhere to the curriculum charted out by the district and cannot deny admission to any child within the residential school zone.

There are several preconceived notions regarding private and public schools. Private schools are often assumed to be very expensive, elitist and a better bet for admission to good colleges. Public schools are often thought of as shoddy, less disciplined, and low-grade curriculum. This comparison offers a fair insight into both schools for parents to make an informed decision.

3. Punishment and reward is a common practice around developing countries. The main objective of the study was to determine the general reward and punishment practices at the secondary level in the schools adopted by the teachers and students. Punishment is the most effective is when the sentence is presented immediately after the answer, it cannot be avoided, there is an alternative and necessary answer, if necessary, for the ardent and the student. This is unpleasant for the student because it is a weapon that can be dangerous for teachers. In addition, frequent use of punishment is a symptom of something wrong in the approaches and methods of the teacher in school conditions. It is very difficult for the teacher to identify and correct the problem and reduce the need for punishment.

3. Well, under the Constitution, the USA is a federal republic and the federal government is divided into three branches: the legislative, the executive and the judicial. Each is chosen in a different manner, and each can check and balance the others. The executive branch is headed by the President together with the Vice President. The legislative branch is made up of two houses: Since 1066 there have been forty monarchs in England, thirty-five kings, five queens and seven dynasties. Only fourteen monarchs have stayed on the throne for more than twenty-five years, one of them is Queen Elizabeth II.

Every royal house or 'dynasty' has a surname. in Britain's case that name is Windsor. Queen Elizabeth II is the fourth Windsor monarch. She is also the head of a very large family. She has three sons, one daughter, and many grandsons and granddaughters. The most famous British royal home is Buckingham Palace. But it is not the only one. The Queen and her family have several other castles, official residences, and country houses too. Today Buckingham Palace is the best-known palace in the world.

1. Your position is different from your friend's.
2. Sometimes adverts break the rules. So, the Advertising Standards Authority offer the company to withdraw the advert. Usually, the company agrees. But if they do not, the Authority can 'make' them to do so. They can do this by publishing a report. Companies do not like this because everyone can read and hear about their dishonest or unfair advertising in the media.

2. Today, electronic variants of books have become a reality. this has given us a lot of opportunities. Some of the data was significantly condensed. and in the future, we can say that electronic books can replace our usual books.

3. The question really got me thinking, and I hope what I say would suffice in some way. Humans are strange, they defy all logic and sense when it comes to their behaviour which is spontaneous. They may say something and do something totally opposite. So far, my observation has been that humans tend to follow the path of least resistance always, unless motivated by something or someone. Coming to Cinema vs Live Theatre, let's understand a few things;

Firstly, cinema is recorded performance, edited and crafted with a degree of perfection which potentially creates the same set of emotions as many times it is viewed, in the familiar environment.

Secondly, cinema is convenient, packaged well and easily consumable. Available at your nearest cinema theatre

On the other hand, theatre is live performance, that is in progress, and due to human error factors, there is always a degree of fluctuation in the performance. Two performances of the same play are never the same. And theatre is not packaged well, not as well as cinema. You need to reach a specific venue on time to be able to catch a show.

26-BILET

1. - I live near the airport.
- Oh, it must be very noisy.

3. Alternate Sources of Energy Energy is something we rely on every day. It heats our houses, charges our phones and in some cases even our cars. In most instances, this energy is harnessed from large power plants in the area who rely on nuclear fission to create their power. However, there are many other alternative sources of energy that are still being used all the time such as tidal, solar or geothermal. These alternate energy sources are being improved every day and should be looked into by families and communities that could benefit from them, and that's what will be focused here. It is these sources that will be focused on here. One extremely popular source of alternate energy is solar. This energy has been around for a large sum of years and is quite well known as solar panels are being installed on buildings and houses every day. Solar power relies on the enormous amount of energy that comes from the sun in the form of heat and light.

2. Classic music is very quiet, so this is very useful for our youth agility activities. I really like classic music. Because when I listen to it, I become much calmer.

3. My favourite book is "The Old Man and the Sea" by Ernest Hemingway. This story is one of the well-known works of the writer. The author depicts the characters of the old man and the boy and their relations very vividly and skillfully. Santiago, the old man, was one of the writer's beloved characters. The old man was a born fisherman, but he was not a butcher and fished only for a living. He was very lonely. He had a devoted friend - the boy, Manolin. The boy loved the old man for his kind heart, his devotion to the sea. Manolin was like a son to Santiago. He took care of the old man's food and his belongings. The old man was glad to pass his experience to the boy. He looked forward to going to the sea together with the boy. All Santiago's life had been in preparation for the battle with big fish. He knew that he had been born for this and it was time to prove it. A strong man at last had met a strong fish. The battle was a difficult one and full of danger. Though the sharks had eaten fish, and nothing had left but the backbone, the old man had morally won the battle. Santiago's words "man can be destroyed but not defeated" are the main idea of this story. "The Old Man and the Sea" is a masterpiece for its imaginative language and the description of nature.

1. Did you check your e-mail. I sent message yesterday.
2. Humans impacts on global climate change continues to accumulate. Data indicated that earth's surface temperature is rising. This increase can be attributed, in part, to human-caused increasing in greenhouse gases such as carbon dioxide. It is becoming apparent that these climate changes are negatively affecting physical and biological systems worldwide.
3. In Uzbekistan, centuries of foreign influence prior to independence helped to form a unique community of people who are distinguished by their hospitality, tolerance, close-knit society and readiness to welcome others into their happiness. Holidays in Uzbekistan are fun celebrations that include both secular and religious, local and international, ancient and 20th-century observances. With great exuberance, the people of Uzbekistan rise to each occasion with gifts, homemade treats, dancing and festive gatherings.

Usually, all people visit each other these days. I also finish all my work at home and visit the houses of my relatives with my mother.

1. Your essay is worse than his. His essay is the best in this class.
2. For me, the cinema is better than the theater. Because I like movies more than scenes. In addition, it is not mandatory to watch the movie only in the cinema. You can watch movies anywhere you want.
3. My ideal job is to do something that I can help others, for example, to do something for someone else; Radiography, consultants, or a teacher. My ideal work should have three good qualities; a good environment increased opportunities and should work hard. It is a profession that is good, interesting, and most importantly, happy, and rewarded with the source of income for it. To understand what work would be a norm, I must first understand myself first, then the motivation and motivation of my work. I want to continue my work, I'm probably just not sure right now, but I'm pretty sure how I want to do it.

1. I was watching TV when my father came yesterday.
2. In my opinion good sportsmanship is developing. This is noticeable not only in Olympic Games, but also in all different competitions. It is widely known as the concept of humanity. I also think that the most important thing in sports is participation. And the result is not so important.
3. My motivation comes from various aspects. For instance, I get inspiration to study from the goals I have set. I know that nothing comes easy; I have to work extra hard to get what I want. In most cases, I look at successful individuals and their stories. I am moved when learning about how people have made it in their journey. I get more energy from those who have gone ahead of me. I will be keen to listen to any story that paints an arduous journey with a thriving destination. This can be from movies, motivational speakers, and TED talks, or by listening to my instincts.
